Seen & Heard Around MURRAY

A pair of cardinals and a pair of blue jays stick around home pretty close. They have all winter long.

People speak of dumb animals a lot, but watching these two couples stay together all winter, with the nesting or mating season a long way off, makes us wonder.

Leading a dog's life does not mean what it used to. Our dog, half Chihuahua and half terrier, does not have it so bad. She has a foam rubber pillow in front of two or three heaters where she stays 80 per cent of the time during the winter time.

A dish of water is always handy and another dish of dog cookies. This plus a lot of TLC makes a pretty good life for her.

Fire Chief Flavil Robertson went about his business during the bomb scare the other night opening lockers in search for the bomb which was reported hidden somewhere in the building.

It was a routine search for Flavil, but the more serious side is that if a bomb had been planted, he was taking his life in his hands to carry out a mission.

A fine looking group of young people appeared as guests of the Rotary Club yesterday.

They were all young men, of high caliber who belong to the Boy Scouts or to the Explorers, Scout organization for other boys.

These young people have as much energy as anyone else their age, and they are directing this energy into channels which will pay big dividends for themselves, and society.

Stanley Jewell, Explorer, had the principal part of the program and delivered as good an address as we have heard on school dropouts.

Cleo Sykes, advisor for the Explorers, cannot be complimented too much on the work he is doing. He deserves the support of every thinking man and woman in Murray for his devotion to duty and the manner in which he is carrying out this program.

Practically every hour Cleo has off duty from his job at the postoffice is spent with some phase of scout work. Bouquets too to Mrs. Sykes who probably has cooked more hamburgers during the time Cleo has worked with the scouts, than anyone else in Calloway County.

Mrs. Sykes may always be seen at a scout function such as their looking at the county fair, or at the annual pancake breakfast, cooking whatever has to be cooked.

Weed Average Up Thursday

The average for sales of Dark Fired tobacco Thursday was $1.62 higher than the average for Wednesday, according to Ollie Burnett, government reporter for the Murray Tobacco market.

Burnett said the market sold 330,872 pounds for $121,839.31 for an average of $37.97. The average for Wednesday was $36.35.

In the final air cured sale Thursday sales on the four Murray floors included 13,296 pounds for a total of $3,000.54 with an average of $27.08, Burnett said.

Civitan Club Hears Cooper

The Murray Civitan Club met last night at the Triangle Restaurant for the annual "Ham and Bean" supper. This was a celebration for the members selling the most fruit cakes last year and the winning essay children from the home while the losing team ate beans.

R. L. Cooper, administrator for the Calloway County Health Department, made a very interesting talk to the club on "Accidents." Much of his talk centered around accidents in the home and he defined an accident as an unplanned event. He pointed out that twice as many children die from accidents in the home as from all other causes.

Mrs. David Gowan Is Named Heart Sunday Chairman

Mrs. David Gowan, 1702 Olive St., is serving as Heart Sunday chairman for Murray in the 1964 Heart Fund Drive now in progress. Her appointment has been announced by the State campaign chairman, Jesse Stuart, of Greensburg, the noted poet and novelist. The heart campaign continues through the month of February.

The Murray Woman's Club is sponsoring the Heart Sunday phase of the drive in Murray, the announcement noted.

Mr. Stuart, himself a recovered heart attack victim, pointed out he has come to know first-hand of the "almost miraculous progress" science has made against heart and blood vessel diseases, and of how the Kentucky Heart Association "by its effective use of Heart Fund dollars in the State's communities, hospitals and medical research laboratories has vitally furthered this progress." He announced that the annual door-to-door Heart Sunday solicitation would be conducted this year on February 23.

James R. Paschall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Paschall, 415 Sycamore Street, Murray, received his commission as a Second Lieutenant in the U.S. Army Reserve in ceremonies held recently at Murray State College. Lieutenant Paschall was commissioned in the Chemical Corps and will report to Fort McClellan, Alabama to begin his active duty on the 8th of March 1964. As an ROTC cadet Lieutenant Paschall was a Platoon Leader and held the cadet rank of 1st Lieutenant. He and his fiancée, Carol Colburn are shown here as she pins on the gold bars.

Miss Ann Herron Attends Library Meet

Miss Ann Herron attended the annual Midwinter Meeting of the American Library Association held at the Edgewater Beach Hotel in Chicago last week.

At the January 26 breakfast meeting of the Board of Directors of Exhibits Round Table Miss Herron participated in policy making and scheduling of activities for this division of the national association for 1964, including the July convention of ALA in St. Louis. ERT's Standards Committee meeting on Tuesday afternoon attended by ALA president, state and regional library association presidents, exhibit chairmen, and exhibitors was concerned with the role of exhibits at library conventions with recommendations being made for effective means of exhibiting. Miss Herron was asked by the ERT president to discuss procedures used at Kentucky Library Association meetings.

The ALA Membership Committee proposed new plans for increasing ALA membership in the fifty states. Miss Herron is ALA Membership Chairman for Kentucky.

All working sessions of committees and boards of official ALA units were closed meetings. The council meetings presided over by ALA president, Frederick H. Wagner from the University of Michigan, were open to any ALA member.

25 Men Will Be Examined

Twenty-five men from Calloway County will be sent to Nashville, Tenn., on Wednesday, February 12, for physical examinations by Selective Service Local Board No. 10 of Calloway County, according to Mr. Eld Adams, clerk of the board.

The local board did not draft any men for January and February as there were enough enlistments to fill the quota. The March quota has not been received by the local board as yet, Mr. Adams said.

FRANKFORT, Ky. (UPI) — Approximately 240 young Kentucky men will be drafted into the Army in April, figures released Thursday by the Defense Department at Washington indicated.

The Murray Woman's Club is sponsoring the Heart Sunday phase of the drive in Murray, the announcement noted.

Mr. Stuart, himself a recovered heart attack victim, pointed out he has come to know first-hand of the "almost miraculous progress" science has made against heart and blood vessel diseases, and of how the Kentucky Heart Association "by its effective use of Heart Fund dollars in the State's communities, hospitals and medical research laboratories has vitally furthered this progress." Homemakers Major Project Lesson Held Wednesday

The Major Project Homemakers Club leaders meeting was held at Murray City Hall Wednesday, February 5.

The women studied room combination in relation to color, pattern, texture. They learned to keep it simplified, comfortable, and informal with dignity and freedom for streamlined living. They learned that small houses need to be more carefully planned and restful patterns used in order to obtain a harmonious and spacious atmosphere.

Homemakers extend an invitation to anyone to attend a home-makers Club near you and learn more about interior decorating. Those attending were: Mrs. Edna M. Billington, Mrs. Glynda Burnett, Mrs. Darrel Mathis, Mrs. Jess Hale, Mrs. Marvin Parks, Mrs. Clyde Wender, Mrs. Hilda Orr, Mrs. Sadie Cochrum, Mrs. Ermine Stewart, Mrs. Willa Dumas, Mrs. Ruby Nesbitt, Mrs. Boyce McCutcheon, Mrs. Billy King, Mrs. Elmer Collins, Mrs. Nedra, Mrs. R. L. Cooper, Mrs. James Coleman, Mrs. Brooks Moody, Mrs. Ben Treverthan, Mrs. Charles Foster, Mrs. Perry Carvitt, Mrs. John Workman, Mrs. Carl Kinsley, Mrs. Hallet Dunn, Mrs. Gene Cole, Mrs. Grover Lovett, and Mrs. Frank Parrish.

Breathitt To Meet Johnson About Highway

FRANKFORT, Ky. (UPI) — Gov. Edward T. Breathitt and state Commissioner of Highways Henry Ward will meet with Sen. Frank Johnson and the governors of three states to agree at a White House conference Saturday morning on a plan to end a six-year controversy over location of Interstate 24.

The governor and Ward, along with the governors of Tennessee, Missouri and Illinois and their aides, are scheduled to meet with the President at 11 a.m. (EST) Saturday.

The four-state agreement backed by the Kentuckians would bring the highway into the state from the Clarksville, Tenn., area; connect with the existing Western Kentucky Parkway in the Kuttawa-Eddyville area; cross the Tennessee River at Calvert City on a new bridge, and leave the state on a new bridge to be built over the Ohio River between Paducah, Ky. and Metropolis, Ill.

The Kentucky officials said, however, such an agreement would be binding only if the government also allocates mileage for a section of interstate highway—not a part of I-24—to run from West Tennessee directly into Missouri, crossing the Mississippi in the Caruthersville, Mo., vicinity.

Last September, then Gov. Bert Combs, Ward and the governors of the other three states met with President Kennedy, at which time they informed him of their joint recommendation. Kennedy expressed his interest and referred the matter to the Bureau of Public Roads, which must concur in the plan before work can start.

Although the Saturday conference was called expressly to deal with the interstate highway location, it was felt the governor might also seize the opportunity to speak to the President about the Eastern Kentucky relief and development programs, and put in a plug for location of a federal tobacco research project at Lexington.

Charges Dismissed in Teacher Suit

COVINGTON, Ky. (UPI) — Kenton Circuit Court Judge Robert L. Lohmeyer Thursday dismissed a $20,116 suit against a physical education teacher charged with beating a student.

Richard Rothfuss, 37, told the court he did not hit John Kennedy, 16, during a gym class at Holmes High School Jan. 18, 1962. The teacher said he seized the youth by the shoulder and shook him when the boy failed to line up with other students.

The youth testified he was beaten, but Rothfuss said, when he released Kennedy the teenager fell into the bleacher seats. The boy's parents sought $20,000 damages and $116 medical and other expenses.

Several students confirmed the teacher's account of the incident.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Jim: Now that we have completed one month of this session of the Legislature I am in a better position to appraise the situation that at the beginning of the session. Since there are only thirty-nine senators, I have been able to learn each one more easily than trying to learn ninety-nine representatives. I wonder if I will be able to learn all the representatives before the session closes.

During the four sessions I served in the House of Representatives, I made it a rule to read every bill closely before casting a vote and learning every representative and senator and all heads of departments during the session of the legislature. While serving as State Senator I intend to continue the same policy.

Contrary to the opinion of a few people, a number of fine, capable and conscientious men and women represent the people and carry on the affairs of our great Commonwealth. Since I am a junior senator, I did not expect nor deserve the recognition I have received on very important committee assignments. I shall ever be grateful to the wonderful people of Calloway County for making it possible for me to work with two West Kentuckians that are devoted friends of mine, namely, Governor Breathitt and Lieutenant Governor Wetherby. Many people in Murray knew of the close friendship that existed between them.

Jean Madeira Scheduled To Sing Here On Monday Night

Jean Madeira, one of the most glamorous and engaging stars of the Metropolitan Opera, arrives here for a concert appearance on Monday at the Murray State College Auditorium at 8:15 p.m.

Her father was a coal miner in Centralia, Illinois, her mother a music teacher. Born Jean Brown, she began her career as a pianist, and at the age of 12 had appeared as soloist with the St. Louis Philharmonic in a Beethoven concerto. She came to New York with $100 in her pocket on a scholarship to the famed Juilliard Graduate School of Music. There the celebrated Mme. Olga Samoff-Stokowski happened by chance to hear her sing, and urged the half Irish, half American Indian girl to switch to vocal training. At Juilliard also, she met her husband, Francis Madeira, a handsome young student of conducting from Philadelphia's Main Line. They now live in an ultra-modern house on Narragansett Bay, Rhode Island, where he conducts the Rhode Island Symphony Orchestra, and occasionally doubles in brass as his beautiful wife's accompanist.

George Bizet's Carmen may or may not be the most popular opera ever written, but it is beyond argument the most widely loved opera written for a contralto. When Jean Madeira made her debut at the Metropolitan as the sultry cigarette girl, Time declared, "The Metropolitan Opera got a new Carmen last week. Her big voice had a dark, antracite sheen, firm and thrilling. By the time she reached her ultimate scree, handsome U. S. Contralto Jean Madeira arrived at the top of the operatic heap in her own country."

The view from the top of that heap is excellent, especially as Miss Madeira has followed it up with similar appearances in most of the major opera houses of the western world. New York audiences outside the Opera House heard her last year in the first performance in the United States of de Falla work, "Atlantida" with the Metropolitan Opera chorus and orchestra under Ansermet—one of the star-spangled events which launched the fabulous new Philadelphia Hall of the Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts.

A top-flight opera star in the international world, Miss Madeira is also a woman of great charm and poise; her lively conversation is refreshingly witty and at the same time down-to-earth in typically American style.

U.S. Base Begins Water Rationing After Castro Cuts Off Regular Supply

HAVANA (UPI) — The U. S. naval base at Guantanamo Bay, cut off from its water supply by Premier Fidel Castro, today began rationing water to conserve its 15 million gallon reserves.

Castro played his long-threatened trump card against the base Thursday, hoping to force the release of 36 Cuban fishermen and four boats held at Key West, Fla., on charges of poaching in Florida waters.

He directed that the state-owned water company four miles outside the base limits cut off Guantanamo's pipeline, except for a one-hour daily period for women and children on the base.

The "Soviet Communist party newspaper Pravda" said today the Soviet people "demand" the release of the fishermen and charged their arrest was "a provocative ploy." It did not mention the water cutoff, possibly because the news was received in Moscow too late for today's paper.

12 Year Old Boy Dies Today

Tommy Wynn Spiceland, twelve year old son of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Spiceland Sr. of Murray Route Five, died at the Murray Hospital this morning at ten o'clock following a brief illness.

The young boy is survived by his parents; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wynn of Benton and Mrs. F. H. Spiceland Sr. of Murray Route Five; two brothers, Jerry and Don Spiceland of Murray Route Five.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete, but friends may call at the J. H. Churchill Funeral Home.

three one-hour periods daily to stretch out the supply. Under normal conditions the base has enough water for 12 days. The rationing will extend this to 25 days.

President Johnson assured the American people Thursday night that "our troops in Cuba and their families will have the water they need." He said the Cuban action had been expected and that the base could be supplied by tanker and other means "indefinitely."

The 10,500 Americans on the 31-square mile base at Cuba's eastern end include 3,000 civilians, most of them wives and children of servicemen.

Castro announced that the water would flow one hour daily, between 8 a.m. and 9 a.m., from the state-run Yateras Waterworks Co. outside the base.

This concession, combined with the rationing, the reserves, and the alternate means of supply meant that there would be no immediate water crisis at the base.

Activate Converters Tank ships were expected to reach Guantanamo next week from Florida and saline water converters on the base were activated.

Castro said the water blockade would continue until the fishermen are released. He told a news conference that the water had not been cut off before in the five years of his regime, even during the 1962 missile crisis.

"But this time, the revolutionary

Farmers, setting at least two-thirds of their 1963 gross income from agriculture must file their final Federal income tax returns and pay any taxes due by Monday, February 17, 1964, if they did not file estimated returns by January 15th, according to G. C. Hooks, District Director of Internal Revenue in Louisville, Kentucky.

"Farmer's Tax Guide," which furnishes more detailed information on this subject, is available upon request from the Internal Revenue Service, P. O. Box 60, Louisville, Kentucky 40201.

New Businesses Are Formed Here

Three new business corporations were formed in Murray in recent weeks according to Kentucky Business, the official publication of the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce. The new corporations were listed as follows:

Brandon Bros. Distributors, Inc., $50,000, deal in motor vehicles, accessories and fuels, Howard Brandon.

government considers that the measure should be taken," he said. "Water is not denied even to our enemies, and knowing that inside the base there are women and children and since we don't wish to harm them, we have decided to give them water during one hour daily," Castro added.

Explorers And Scouts Guests Of Rotary Club

Explorers from Post 45 and Scouts from Troops 45 and 77 were guests yesterday of the Murray Rotary Club.

Stanley Jewell, president of the post, spoke to the Rotarians on the work of the Explorers and Scouts also on the subject of school dropouts.

He presented clear statistics on how much the dropout makes during his lifetime as compared with students who complete their high school and college work.

The Explorers and Scouts who were guests yesterday represent those who will take part in the Youth Government Day on February 13. On this day the Explorers and Scouts will participate in the city government and assume offices for that day.

The following boys will be participating: Stanley Jewell as Mayor, Benjie Humphries as City Judge, Dale Sykes, Tommy Williams, Bernard Harvey, Sammy Knight, Bobby Herndon and Odis Jones as Councilmen. These boys are from Post 45. Thomas Williams, Jr., Bill Metzger and Jimmy Herndon of Troop 45 as Councilmen. Jim Buckton, Bill Hart, and Jimmy Ambuster from Troop 77 as Councilmen.

Rotarian Forest Martin introduced Cleo Sykes who in turn introduced Stanley Jewell. Sykes introduced the Explorers and Scouts present.

Preceding the regular program, Glenn Sims, Associate County Agent for 4-H work in the county, explained the automotive maintenance course which the Extension Service will present this year. The course will be for all young people in the county. He urged that the Rotary Club provide some of the leaders which will be needed for the program. Sims was introduced by Max B. Hurt.

Ralph Schutte of Paducah was a visiting Rotarian. Rev. William Purter was a guest of Cleo Austin and Mr. Whitlow was a guest of Joe Williams. Bob Moyer and Charles Moore were introduced as new Rotarians.

Stephen C. Sanders, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Sanders, Murray, was commissioned as a Second Lieutenant in the U.S. Army Reserve at ceremonies held at Murray State College recently. Lieutenant Sanders was commissioned in Artillery and will report to Fort Sill, Oklahoma during March 1964. Lieutenant Sanders was a platoon leader in the ROTC Brigade with the rank of 1st Lieutenant. Dr. Frank Steffy of the History Department, Murray State College, gave the keynote address to the newly commissioned officers. He is shown here pinning on Lieutenant Sanders' gold bars.

Dumping Land Is Problem For The City

By DOROTHEA M. BROOKS

NEW YORK (U.P.) — Shortage of dumping sites isn't the only land problem plaguing municipalities these days. Many areas are running out of dumping land.

In Boston, Spectacle Island, the city's off-shore dumping area, is only 30 feet high with 30 years' worth of rubbish.

New York's swank Westchester County has used up existing dumping sites and must cart refuse about 60 miles.

Washington, D. C., is in such a plight that some of its refuse is shipped by train to Virginia for handling and officials expect, unless there is a major break-through in the near future, the city may be in for a multi-million dollar project of transporting the bulk of its refuse out of town.

Pinnpoints Problem Stanley Speedel, assistant to the president of National Organic Corporation, NORCO Atlanta, Ga. pinpoints the problem:

"The average consumer accumulates close to four pounds of refuse daily, compounded with about half that amount 20 years ago. Population has increased and incomes have risen. People buy more and throw more away. Everything is packaged, nowadays. Newspapers and magazines seem thicker and they are purchased in greater volume."

National Organic has come up with what appears to be a promising solution to the problem in a new "composting" operation much like that the dedicated home gardener conducts in his backyard. The company owns and operates a composting plant in Kingston, Jamaica, a city of 421,718 population, where it has operated for 18 months processing refuse into organic fertilizer which is then sold off the island.

Recently NORCO completed an agreement with M. W. Kellogg, engineering and construction firm, to construct other plants here and abroad.

Treated Biochemically Under the NORCO process unseparated city garbage and rubbish are shredded mechanically—into fine glass, paper and tin cans—and treated biochemically so total refuse can be subjected to accelerated bacterial decomposition and transformed without objectionable odor into an organic soil conditioner within

FARM BUREAU

In Action

Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation

The Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation and the State Association of Soil Conservation Districts have combined efforts in sponsoring a bill which will, if enacted, help alleviate some of the undesirable situations resulting from strip and auger mining in Eastern and Western Kentucky. The bill is H. B. 145, introduced by Representative John Swinford of Harrison County. It is co-sponsored by Representatives Ashby, Johnson and White.

Major provisions of the bill include:

1. If the surface of the land prior to striping is classified as land use capability class 1, 2, 3, or 4 by the Soil Conservation Service, then the operator must grade the surface to a rolling topography that may be traversed by farm machinery, and the soil profile must be restored. In other words, if the land is in agricultural production or is suitable for agricultural production prior to striping, then it must be put back in such condition that some day it might again have value as agricultural land.

2. The operators would be required to take such precautions as necessary to protect adjacent lands, waterways, and roadways, both public and private, from being damaged or polluted, as a result of the mining operation.

3. It would require that the plans for reclamation be filed with the Department of Conservation prior to the strip mining operation. The Department would have the authority to refuse to issue a permit if the plan did not provide for the required reclamation practices.

Some other features of the bill are:

1. Areas of land affected would also include access roads.

2. Fees and performance bonds would be increased to guarantee compliance.

3. The reclamation plan would be drawn in consultation with the local Soil Conservation District.

4. Operators would be prohibited from leaving coal seams and auger holes exposed.

Fulton Says New Farm Feed Grain Base Established

A new farm feed grain base may be established under the 1964 Feed Grain Program for farms which did not plant feed grains in 1960 and/or 1961 that meet eligibility requirements, Mr. H. B. Fulton of the Calloway ASCS County Office announced today.

To be eligible for a new farm feed grain base, Mr. Fulton said the operator must expect to receive 50 percent or more of his livelihood in the current year from the production of agricultural commodities on the farm; must have had at least two years experience in the production of feed grains in the last years; must have adequate equipment for the production of feed grains; the land must be suitable for the production of feed grains; and neither the owner nor the operator may have an interest in any other farm for which a feed grain base has been established.

Interested producers who can meet these requirements should contact the County ASCS Office before February 15 and file an application, Mr. Fulton said.

A farm for which a new farm feed base is established will not be eligible to participate in the 1964 program.

Russia Clinches Gold Medal Championship Of Olympics

By HENRY W. THORNBERRY

United Press International

INNSBRUCK, Austria (UP) — Russia clinched the gold medal championship of the 1964 Winter Olympics today when a women's ski relay scored the 10th Soviet victory, while Victor Emery gave Canada its first gold medal in the four-man bobsled.

The United States team did not pick up any medals but easily qualified its top skiers for Saturday's final of the men's slalom.

Claudia Boyarskikh, already a double gold medal winner for Russia, sparked the Soviets to victory in the women's 15-kilometer cross-country race by a two-second margin.

The victory—the seventh chalked up by its women athletes—gave the Soviet Union a gold medal lead that no other nation could match before the formal closing of the games on Sunday. It also was Russia's 23rd medal of all kinds; both this total and the gold medal total already had surpassed previous Winter Olympic records.

The U.S. men's skiers were impressive in trials for the slalom. Jim Heuga, Tahoe City, Calif., was fourth best in the field in the morning trial, Bud Werner, Steamboat Springs, Colo., fifth, and Billy Kidd, Stowe, Vt., 11th.

Emery, a 30-year old salesman, piloted his light blue sled bearing the maple leaf insignia down today's fourth and final heat of the four-man bob in 1:04.01 — fairly slow time but enough to clinch the Canadian triumph with a four-run total time of 4:14.44.

Erwin Thaler of Austria was second.

Emery had been aiming for a fourth-heat time under 1:04:00 to retain at least part of the 90° of a second lead his sled enjoyed after Thursday's third heat.

But Thaler, in second place, was even slower with 1:04.13 on the fourth heat to remain in second place with a four-run total of 4:15.48.

That meant a victory margin of slightly more than a second for the Canadians.

Eugenio (Red Top) Monti, Italy's almost legendary eight-time world champion who never has won an Olympic gold medal, clocked 1:04.08 on the final run for a third-place total of 4:15.60.

Sergio Zardini driving the No. 2 Italian sled finished fourth in 4:15.89.

Germany's Franz Schelle came in fifth in 4:16.19, and then the U.S. No. 1 sled driven by Bill Hickey of Kenne, N.Y., came in sixth place in 4:17.23, after a 1:04.79 time on the fourth heat.

The U.S. No. 2 sled, driven by Larry McKillop of Saranac Lake, N.Y., was knocked out of the competition before Thursday's third heat when it broke a steering gear in a practice run.

The Soviet victory in the women's ski relay, in which three skiers each covered five kilometers, was as easy as had been expected. The powerful Russian girls churned over the soft, slow course in a total time of 59:20.2, against 1:01:27.0 for Sweden and 1:02:45.1 for Finland.

Murray Racers Lose 85-74 To Arkansas

by United Press International

Bob Lavy used to play on some free-wheeling outfits at Western Kentucky himself, but he never saw anything there like what happened to his Tennessee University team at Kentucky Wesleyan Thursday night.

Wesleyan set a school record for points scored in rolling up a 119-59 victory, firing no less than 107 shots at the basket against the shell-shocked Tampanas.

The Panthers hit 46 of them, or 42.9 per cent, as freshman Charles Taylor led the scoring spree with 27 points and six other Wesleyan players scored in double figures.

It was gunners' night elsewhere in Kentucky college basketball, too, as Georgetown posted touring Findlay College of Ohio, 109-85, with Dick Vories scoring 34 and Cecil Tuttle 26 for the Tigers.

Campbellsville also broke into three figures, downing Belmont College, 102-92, at Nashville, Tenn.

Murray State, apparently rusty after a layoff for examinations, fell an 85-74 victim at Arkansas State, a team the Racers beat handily at Murray in December.

The score was 34-24 at halftime, but the shooting of Jerry Rook and Jerry Hudgins in the second half sent Murray down to its eighth defeat in 17 games. Rook hit for 32 points, Hudgins for 24, as Steve Johnson's 20 points topped the Murray scoring.

Kentucky State outshot Union by a wide margin to down the KIAC contender, 78-63. The Thorobreds hit for a sizzling 53.3 while Union could net but a mere 39 per cent and did not have a man in double figures.

Union move son to Louisville to night to meet Belknap in a key KIAC contest that tops a short Kentucky college cage card for the evening.

First place in the KIAC will be at stake, as Belknap leads the hoop with a 7-3 conference mark and Union is only a half-game back at 6-2. Union beat the Knights at Barbourville, 69-52, early in the season.

In other games tonight, Transylvania plays Kenyon at Gambier, Ohio, and Pikeville plays at East Carolina.

When Harry Lee and me, but few probably did not know that I had served six years as Calloway's Representative while Governor Breathitt represented Christian County.

It has been my distinct pleasure to serve on the committee to export Governor Breathitt from his office to appear before the Joint Session of the Legislature when the resolution passed by both Houses of the Legislature to make an inspection of the Governor's Mansion and the Lieutenant Governor's Mansion for alteration and repairs. Inspection will be completed and recommendations presented to the legislature. These assignments along with membership on the Appropriations Committee, Banking and Insurance, Education, Executive and Legislative Affairs, and serving as Chairman of the very important Ways and Means Committee keep me busy.

Jim, I trust you will interpret this in the spirit in which it is written. I am not in Frankfort trying to represent my own personal interests, but those of my district. I want the people whom I try to represent to get the credit for any worthwhile accomplishment we may achieve, but I do want our people to know that I am at work and intend to continue under the help of God to represent every one in my district as best I possible can, realizing there are conflicts of interest, and I most certainly cannot do everything that everyone wants me to do.

Elvie and our daughter Linda are here with me at 425 Conway Street in Frankfort. The telephone number is 223-8073. Since Linda is in school and we do not get to Murray often, we shall appreciate a card, letter, or telephone call from anyone at anytime expressing their wishes and desires.

Coach Rupp Hopes To Win Southeastern Conference Basketball Championship

By BOB WESTON

United Press International

LEXINGTON, Ky. (UP) — Coach Adolph Rupp can't recall a Southeastern Conference basketball team ever losing its first two conference games, then roaring back to win the league championship.

The remainder of the Kentucky basketball season is dedicated to the proposition it can be done.

That means the league-leading Wildcats will have to beat Ole Miss Saturday night and Mississippi State Monday night in their drive for the title. Both games will be in Memorial Coliseum here.

The Mississippi tussle will feature a scoring duel between Kentucky's Cotton Nash and the Rebels' Donnie Kessinger. Nash leads the conference with a 28.9 average and Kessinger is right behind with a 25.3 mark.

If Kentucky should return to its traditional man-to-man defense guard Tommy Kron is a good bet to get the assignment of curbing Kessinger's scoring.

May Go With Zone

Rupp, of course, is not about to reveal his game strategy. But it would not be surprising if the Baron team continues to use the "alien" zone defense which has proved so successful in UK's last four games.

In either case, zone or man-to-man, Rupp said Kron would retain his starting position.

"He's not only done a great job on defense, but he's also giving us extra board strength," Rupp said in extolling the 6-foot, 6-inch Owensboro sophomore.

"He got 10 rebounds against Georgia and you don't find many guards who can rebound like that," the veteran mentor commented.

Rupp cited the performance of Kron and sophomore Larry Conley as the most pleasing aspects of Kentucky's present six-game winning streak.

"Conley is a great hunker," Rupp remarked. "He puts fire in our

In addition to Nash, Conley, and Kron, Kentucky is expected to start Ted Deeken at forward and Terry Mobley at guard as usual.

Mississippi brings a 6-0 record into the Kentucky encounter. The Rebels are 3-4 in the eighth-place tie with Alabama. Kentucky is 16-2 over-all with a 6-2 SEC record.

Like many SEC teams, Ole Miss has a transplanted Kentuckian in its lineup. He's Glen Lusk, a 6-2 sophomore from Muldraugh, who perhaps is better known in Kentucky for his baseball exploits. He was named the outstanding pitcher in Louisville's top amateur league in 1962.

Rupp said today he has been feeling "kinda under the weather" with a sore throat and cold.

Victories over Mississippi and Mis-issippi State might not ally him, but they certainly make him feel better, launching him toward his next milestone of 20 wins.

Tigers Will Play Here Tonight

The Murray High Tigers will meet Sedalia tonight in the gym with the B team game beginning at 6:45 p.m.

Showing steady improvement, the Tigers have won 5 games while losing 8, some of these by a very close margin.

Coach Larry Henson expects the team's improvement to continue through the season. By tournament time he hopes to be ready for area teams.

Local fans are urged to see tonight's game. Admission prices are 35c student and 60c adult.

The Tigers travel to Hopkinsville Saturday night for two games beginning at 6:30.

What Price Quality?

Our bookkeeping section has just informed us that during the year 1963 Ryan Milk Company paid out an extra $29,030.17 in order to market All-Jersey Milk.

In other words, we could have "saved" $29,030.17 by furnishing ordinary milk to our fine customers in Murray and the surrounding area.

By handling ordinary milk we could have eliminated certain extra procurement handling and administration cost totaling the above amount, but we also would have had only an ordinary product to offer.

Quality requires, always, extra effort and extra cost. The extra cost to us in marketing All-Jersey Milk are substantial to be sure, but All-Jersey Milk is quality, the very best . . . a product with proven nutritional superiority.

All-Jersey Milk actually gives us more of the things you buy milk for, and the extra nutritional benefits enjoyed by you, our customers, are possible only through these extra handling cost. There is no other way we can give you the quality found only in All-Jersey Milk.

Household Hints

A cake layer is done when it shrinks slightly from the sides of the pan or if it springs back when touched lightly with the finger.

A common poisoning around the home is caused when small children chew on wooden objects covered with lead-based paint. Remove peeling, flaking, or blistered paint from woodwork or furniture and repaint with paint that does not contain lead.

House Of Dior Presents The Sub-Deb Look

By ALINE MOSBY
United Press International

PARIS (UPI) — The House of Christian Dior tossed its candidate into the spring fashion ring today — a "sub-deb" look of little schoolgirl fitted suits and ruffled dresses.

Dior designer Marc Bohan, strongly influential in what women wear around the world, dressed his models like little girls all spaced up for Sunday school back in the 1920's.

One type of suit had a short jacket curving up in front like a schoolgirl's, with lapels and double rows of buttons. The skirts were narrow and just barely covered the knees.

Bohan's second type of suit had a swishing pleated skirt — Paris is swimming in pleats this spring — and long, long collarless jackets like a schoolboy's blazer.

Bohan's cocktail and evening coats were useful, fitted reading coats, ruffles and floating chiffon.

The waistline definitely made a comeback, with most of Bohan's suits fitted at the waist.

Daytime coats also noted the waistline. Bohan made many reading coats that were belted and flared into wide pleats.

Other coats were fuller but they hung straight and also were belted. Dior's football shoulders of last season were noticeably absent.

The waistline also was belted on afternoon dresses in classic shirt-waist style — a blousey top with long full sleeves and narrow skirts.

Although he marked the waistline, Bohan did not abandon the loose, narrow look that has reigned for years.

Many daytime dresses, as well as cocktail and evening gowns, were cut so low that the mannequins were nearly squeezed out of them.

Bohan's big new color was a deep carnation red, used in dresses, blouses and scarves.

Other highlights of the Dior show:

—A new idea for hostess slacks — wide silk trousers with a matching tailored jacket and blouse reminiscent of the 1930's. Bohan also showed these outfits in wool for airplane travel.

—Pale beige lace mesh stockings worn with tweed suits.

—T-strap sandals with medium or flat heels.

—"Gypsy" flowered chiffon ankle-length evening dresses dripping with sequins the size of Gypsy coins.

—Beige crocheted dresses, and even a slip of beige crocheted between chiffon ruffles on an evening gown.

The Book of Patriotic Holidays by Marguerite Ickis is a book full of imaginative suggestions for celebrations commemorating great men and events in our nation's history. The Murray-Calloway County Library has this book.

Dear Abby . . .

For The Birds!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have had people tell me that their parakeets talked, but I have listened to these birds and never could make out what they were trying to say — until last night! I was at the home of a friend who had a parakeet that said, "Kiss me, big boy." "Bottoms up," and "What's your hurry, beautiful?" as clearly as any human. I asked her some questions about the parakeet and she said that first you must be sure you have a male because only the males talk. The females won't utter a sound. Then she said you must put the parakeet in a teapot and whisper down the spout whatever you want him to memorize. Was she kidding me? I was too convinced at the time to question her, but now I have my doubts.

DEAR ABBY: I want to sound off about these salespeople who come into your office during working hours and take up your time trying to sell you cosmetics, insurance, vitamins, etc. Don't they realize that you are working for an employer, and you time is his time? I work in a six-girl office and someone is constantly barging in to sell something. It's rude to tell them to leave, but all the while you are wondering when your boss is going to come up behind you and ask you whose payroll you're on.

DEAR ABBY: I'm dishonest for an employee to spend her best time on the receiving end of some sales spiel. It's not necessary to be "rude" in informing a salesperson that you cannot give him your time. But if one must choose between rudeness and dishonesty, rudeness is the lesser.

DEAR ABBY: A girl friend of ours dated a fellow for seven months.

"DRINK NOT THE WINE OF ADULTERY" is the message on one of the placards three 17-year-old kids carry outside the King Edward Sheraton in Toronto, Ont., where Richard Burton and Elizabeth Taylor are staying while he rehearses for a Broadway production of "Hamlet." The other two placards read "Daughter Of The Flesh" and "She Walks Among Your Children." The famous pair didn't see all this, but inside, where a lot of girls were squealing adulation. Told of it, Burton said, "Well, you can't blame us. We've been trying to get married for two years now. It's not our fault."
